

White keys show the letter and the octave number (scientific pitch notation). Each black key has two names: the sharp of the white key below it and the flat of the white key above it. The lowest key is A0, the highest C8.

